

THIRD PARTY AUDITS

The outcome is always critical...

Does Passing a
Third Party Food
Safety Audit
Guarantee your Food is Safe?

THE BAR HAS BEEN RAISED . . .

As Food Safety continues to take center stage in federal legislation, all aspects of its implementation and evaluation are being subjected to the spotlight. As a result, auditing firms are scurrying to retain or improve their position in this growing industry.

Knowing where your plant and documentation deficiencies lie is the first step in enhancing your food safety and quality programs.

Making the necessary commitment and investment necessary to develop, sustain, and constantly improve the program is key.

If your company has already been audited, the result will show your deficiencies. If not, get a qualified company to conduct a GAP audit. The cost should be less than $1,500.

Can your company afford to fail an audit?

FDA Consulting Services can make this daunting task easy. We will, working together, identify the strengths and weaknesses of your systems and develop, organize and implement written Food Safety & Quality programs, policies, procedures and monitoring documents necessary to ensure high audit scores.

Developed specifically for processors, our detailed audit preparation can be custom tailored to meet your specific needs.
